fronted us, is it likely that we would have had an administration as smooth and acounts as clear as in the States?

"I want to say here that any irregularities complained of in the Washington postoffice were investigated at the time by Postoffice inspectors who made a report to the Postmaster-General. They found some irregularities, but no robbery or defrauding of the government. Ex-Postmaster-General Smith and Postmaster-General Smith and Postmaster-General Smith and Postmaster-General Smith and Postmaster Merriti, of this city, state in their letters to me that they corrected the evils complained of as scon as their attention was called to them. All that indicates any wrong-doing in the Postoffice Department at Washington or in the Washington postoffice, involving loss to the government or the Integrity of an official, will be investigated by Mr. Bristow but I am not going to investigate a stump speech.

NO CALLING OFF.

"Much has been made of the statement that Comptroller Tracewell called off one of his men from an inspection of the Washington postoffice accounts, because it was alleged that he was reaching what might be called 'pay dirt.' Comptroller Tracewell in his letter to me says that the inspection had been fully completed before the man was taken off, and that his report was already in, and all the information wanted had been gotten. Mr. Tracewell says he himself inspected the New York postoffice accounts.

"Now once for all I want to say that this investigation of the affairs of the Postoffice Department will go on to the end, will reach into every piace and in every direction, where there is reason to believe anything wrong may be found. The investigation of the affairs of the prestigation is a pure gratuity on the part of the person who furnishes such information."

SOUTHERN ROADS WIN THEIR CASE

(By Associated Press.)

MACON, G.A., May 10.—Argument was concluded to-day in the case of the Georgia Saw Mill Association versus the Southeastern Freight Association and the several railroad companies composing it.

Judge Speer stated that he had at first decided to take the case under advisement, but owing to the importance of the interests involved he had decided to hand down an ophulon.

The defendants filed a demurrer to the jurisdiction of the court. The demurrer

The defendants filed a demurrer to the jurisdiction of the court. The demurrer was overruled, Judge Speer holding that he entertained no doubt of the court's Jurisdiction to restrain the enforcement of rates made in violation of the interstate commerce law or otherwise as a result of a combination in restraint of trade. Judge Speer held that it is competent for a court of equity to so frame its orders as to secure both parties the fullest hearing and freest investigation, and at the same time in proper cases to restrain treparable injury.

and at the same time in proper cases to restrain irreparable injury.

Governed by this view, he dissolved the temporary injunction against the railroads; but in case the railroads shall enforce the rate complained of, the court reserves the right, upon a proper application of the Saw Mill Association, to injoin the railroads from putting such atteint of effect pending the hearing before the interstate Commerce Commission.

Immediately after the hearing the in-terstate Commerce Commission was noti-fied by wire that an increase of two cents per hundred on Georgia yellow pine lumber destined for points north of the Ohio River would be effective ten days

OBITUARY,

Edward S. Cardozo.

Edward S. Cardozo.

The death of Mr. Edward Singleton Cardozo occurred yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock at his residence, No. 15 South Third Street, as the result of the paralytic stroke he suffered Friday, from the effects of which he did not railly.

Mr. Cardozo was a native of Powhatan county, and was fifty-seven years of age. Before coming to Richmond he lived in Manchester for some time. For a number of years he traveled for Drewry, Hughes & Company and Millhiser & Company. Up to about a year ago he represented a Baitmore firm.

During the war Mr. Cardozo fought bravely in the Confederate service. He confisted in the Third Company of the Richmond Howitzers, and appeared in the principal battles in which the Army of Northern Virginia engaged. When he entered the war he was but fifteen years of age. He was a member of Lee Campand and other Confederate organizations.

Mr. Cardozo was married to Miss Elizabeth Wornley Norris, who survives him. He also, leaves five children—Messer. Hugh L., Hunter, Byrd, Edmund and Miss Elizabeth Cordoso.

The funeral will take place from the home at 4 o'clock to-morrow afternoon and the burial will be in Hollywood. The services will be conducted by the Rev. Dr. Smith, of the Union Theological Seminary.

WE CANNOT INTERFERE

State Department Has Received Many Complaints.

THE JEWISH MASSACRES

No Proof Adduced that Any of the Sufferers Were American Citizens, Nor that Any Injury is Done tho United States.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 16.—Marked copies of Jewish newspapers and personal State Department, all relating to the reported killing and mal-treatment of Jews in Bessarabla. Some, at least, of these show misunderstanding of the situation, and of the limitations of the powers of the State Department in dealing with the State Department in dealing with the matter, Ambassador McCormick has been criticised for denying that any massacro occurred. It is said at the department that the Ambassador made no statement of his own on the subject, he simply transmitted textually the reply of the Russian government to a request made by the United States that relief funds be admitted for distribution among the sufferers. The Russian government's reply, published at the time, was that there was no such suffering as had been reported, and no occasion for relief. Mr. McCormick could not question the veracity of his official information, and he sent the denial along without comment, distinctly placing it upon the Russian government.

he sent the denial along without comment, distinctly placing it upon the Russian government.

NO PARALLEL.

The State Depiartment feels that it can do no more than it has done in the cause of the oppressed Jaws. It has not learned officially that a single one of them is an American citizen, so it has no warrant for interference. There is no parallel between cases of the Jaws in Roumania and those in Russia. In the first case it is said at the department that the United States had a ground for intervention because the Roumanian government's action was injuring the United States by dumping a horde of undesirable immigrants upon her shores. It is not asserted that this result follows the Russian act, which moreover, it is pointed out is not official. It is precisely as if Count Casin should present himself to Secretary Hay and in the name of his government protest against reported lyuchings of negroes by mobs in this country, which, probably would result in a polite intimation to the Ambassador that he was going beyond the limits of his proper business.

That is the state of the case officially but it may be added that the limited action taken by the United States has served a purpose to make known to the Russian government that the great moral influence of the United States is directed towards securing an amelioration of the conditions of the Jews in Russia.

MARKSMEN SHOOT

At the weekly meet of the East End Gun Club yesterday a good stiff breeze with strong angled birds and a good long flight caused exceedingly hard shooting. In the first event it was a class of "snap em quick," or not at all, in the second event the wind ceased to blow so hard and some of the boys "smashed" the ples in better style. Generally speaking, only a few connected successfully with the "black birds." It seemed to be an off day with the shooters, as is the case at different stages of the season.

Mr. Flippen won the weekly medal by Mr. Filippen won the weekly medal by the close margin of one bird. He was followed closely by Dr. Hillsman, who shot in his usual good form.

Mr. Lee Lorraine was a welcome visitor and gave an interesting exhibition of pulverizing mud pies by using only one mand in holding the gun and manipulating the trigger. He is an all-round good shot and an excellent man to fill a squad in a team shoot. East End would do well to secure him in some of the coming contests, it now looks as though Anderson will be kept very busy if he expects to wear the Harris, Flippen Co, medal another month for already the following good marksmen have challenged him for a match of fifty targets; R.
